

A Snake for Pip

One day Tom and Nate looked under a stone.

“Look! Here is a snake,” said Nate.

“We can take the snake to Pip.”

“Ha ha!” said Tom. “It is a good idea!
She will be mad!”

Tom and Nate got on their bikes.
They rode down the big slope to Pip’s home.

“Pip! Look at the snake!” said Nate.

Pip looked at the snake.

Then she gripped the snake in her hand.

“Oh, good! I like snakes,” she said with a smile.
