The Mighty Knight

Once there was a dragon that lived in a cave near the castle. Every night the dragon would fly over the castle. He would blow fire and frighten everyone.

"What can we do?" the king asked the queen.

"I can help," said the knight.
"I can frighten away the dragon."

"Will you use a sword to slay the dragon?" asked the queen.

"No! You will see what I will use!" said the knight.

That night the dragon flew over the castle, but before he blew fire, the knight took out a big flashlight and waved the bright light at the dragon. The bright light frightened the dragon. He flew off and never came back.

"You are a mighty knight," said the king and queen.
"You got rid of the dragon without even a fight!"
